

Model 303

The established range of professional water heaters made by Transvend are safe, simple to operate, hygienic, robust and reliable, and can be fitted to a range of vehicles from Fire Engines to messing vehicles and smaller vans

Many of the UK's leading maintenance companies now use Transvend water heaters in their vehicles. Employers have a 'Duty of Care' and a responsibility under the 1974 Health and Safety Act to their employees. For many employees working remotely, their vehicle can be considered as their place of work and as such, facilities to make drinks must be provided. Transvend have the solutions to enable compliance and to meet this 'Duty of Care' legislation.
