Duty of Care and Staff Welfare Compliant

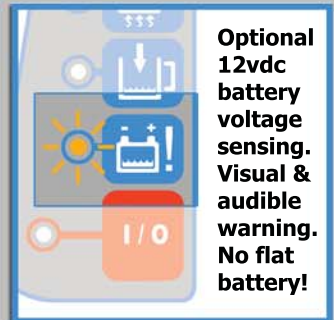

The Transvend range of water heaters for making hot drinks are safe, simple to operate, hygienic, robust and reliable. The heaters are fitted extensively within Emergency Services fleets, not only for Frontline Vehicles but also for Command & Support Vehicles.

Employers have a 'Duty of Care' and a responsibility to their employees under the 1974 Health and Safety Act. For many employees working remotely, their vehicle can be considered as their place of work and as such, facilities to make drinks must be provided. Transvend have the solutions to enable compliance and to meet this 'Duty of Care' obligation.
